The Vet-Advantage Consumer Price Index draws information from myriad online and consumer-facing resellers. Vet-Advantage provides this index as a service to distributors and their customers. The information is relevant ONLY for consideration to understand consumer-facing market conditions and is NOT reflective of any MSRP information from product manufacturers. Vet-Advantage takes no role in establishing any of these prices and the information is representative of the market only as a reflection of products that are available in publicly published internet pricing. Volume discounts from certain sources may/may-not be represented depending on how such discounts are presented to search engines used to gather consumer-pricing.
